

Four academic terms offered summer 2008

Now that spring break is over, current and future Morehead State University students are looking ahead to the summer and fall academic terms.

To accommodate a wider range of students, there will be four summer terms offered this year, including an intersession.

Registration for the general Summer term, Summer Intersession, Summer I and II, as well as Fall 2008 will be available online at MSU's Web site (www.moreheadstate.edu). Students may view course offerings and complete the registration process through the Datatel WebAdvisor Monday through Friday, April 7-11.

Classes for the summer and fall will be offered online and/or at the Morehead campus according to the following schedule:

Summer Intersession: Monday, May 19 through Friday, May 30.

Summer: Monday, June 2 through Friday, July 25.

Summer I: Monday, June 2 through Friday, June 27.

Summer II: Monday, July 7 through Friday, Aug 1.

Fall: Monday, Aug. 18 through Friday, Dec. 12.

Registration can be made easier by planning ahead. Students are encouraged to meet with their academic adviser prior to registering, and then to register as early as possible when there is the best variety of classes available.

Students will register according to their current classification: Graduate students and other post baccalaureates on Monday, April 7; seniors on Tuesday, April 8; juniors on Wednesday, April 9; sophomores on Thursday, April 10; and freshmen and transfer students on Friday, April 11.

For those not yet enrolled who are considering attending MSU, there is still time to submit an application for the summer or fall terms. Prospective students may call the Office of Enrollment Services at 783-2000 or (800) 585-6781 opt #1 for admissions assistance. Students also will be able to view and pay their bill online via WebAdvisor.

Sophomore art

MSU's Claypool-Young art gallery will host the "2008 Annual MSU Sophomore Art Exhibition," through April 9.

All art students of sophomore rank are required to participate in the exhibition, allowing them an opportunity to exhibit their work in the professional realm.

Stress workshop

MSU's Wellness Center is offering a workshop designed to teach stress management techniques. The "Stress Management Workshop" will be held at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, April 23 in the center's classroom (room 113).

Dr. Teresa Hardman, associate professor of health, physical education and sport sciences, will present the class, which will help participants understand the different types of stress and how to control them. They also will learn where stress comes from and how to properly manage it in order to help focus on the good things in life. The workshop is free and open to all MSU students, faculty, staff and the campus community.

Trombone Day set for April 26

High school and college musicians will have a unique opportunity to rehearse and perform with expert trombonists at an upcoming special event at MSU.

MSU Trombone Day 2008, slated for Saturday, April 26, will bring together the best trombonists in the area for instruction, showmanship and camaraderie. Participants will perform with the Festival Trombone Choir, and hone their techniques at clinics with guest artist Joseph Alessi, principal trombone of the New York Philharmonic, and Dr. Jeanie Lee, professor of trombone.

The evening concert featuring Alessi as a soloist with both the Festival Trombone Choir and the MSU Trombone Choir is free and open to the public.

Alessi was appointed principal trombone of the New York Philharmonic in the spring of 1985. Prior to joining the Philharmonic, he was second trombone of The Philadelphia Orchestra for four seasons, and principal trombone of L'Orchestre symphonique de Montreal for one season.

He is an active soloist, recitalist, and chamber music performer. In April 1990, he made his solo debut with the New York Philharmonic, performing Creston's Fantasy for Trombone, and in 1992 premiered Christopher Rouse's Pulitzer Prize-winning Trombone Concerto with the Philharmonic, which commissioned the work for its 150th anniversary celebration.

Dr. Lee has been the professor of trombone at MSU since 2000. She performs frequently with the Lexington Philharmonic, Huntington Symphony Orchestra, West Virginia Symphony Orchestra, Kentucky Jazz Repertory Orchestra and the DiMartino Osland Jazz Orchestra.

She also performs as a regular member of the Horizon Brass Quintet, an ensemble of Morehead State professors. She has performed with groups such as the Anchorage Symphony Orchestra, the Midland-Odesa Symphony Orchestra, and with popular acts Aretha Franklin, Natalie Cole, the Moody Blues and Manhattan Transfer.

MSU Trombone Day 2008 has been made possible through the sponsorship of Edwards Instrument Company, Don Wilson Music Co. Inc., MSU Arts and Humanities Council via the Buckner and Sally S. Hinkle Endowment for Humanities and the MSU Department of Music.

High school trombonists, grades nine through 12, and college students are eligible for the MSU Trombone Day 2008. Pre-registration is required to join in the Festival Choir and clinics with Dr. Lee and Alessi.

Guest comic

John Mulaney, one of the nation's most popular up-and-coming comics, will perform at MSU in April.

He will bring his brand of humor to the Button Auditorium stage on MSU's campus on Thursday, April 17, at 8 p.m.

His show, which is free and open to the public, is sponsored by MSU's Student Activities Council (SAC).

People in the News

Connie Kibbey, associate director with Upward Bound, was recognized as an Unsung Hero at the recent Southeastern Association of

Noted writers featured at symposium

Two of the nation's most prominent poets will give readings and present craft talks as part of the Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy's first Creative Writing Symposium on Wednesday and Thursday, April 9 and 10.

The 1998 National Book Award winner Gerald Stern and 2000 APR/Honickman Prize winner Anne Marie Macari will read at 7 p.m. on April 9 in 2 Breckinridge Hall, followed by a reception.

Thursday's event will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in room 312 of the Adron Doran University Center.

All events are free and open to the public. "Having Gerald Stern and Anne Marie Macari on campus for two days is a wonderful opportunity for our students to interact with nationally acclaimed working writers," said Dr. Phil Krummrich, department chair.

Macari will present "Finding A Legacy: A Look at Some Breakthrough Woman Poets" followed by Stern's "Poetry and Form." The symposium will close with a question and answer session on "What It Means To Get An Education in Creative Writing."

Stern, a Pittsburgh native, is the author of 14 books of poetry including "This Time: New and Selected Poems" (National Book Award winner), and most recently "Everything is Burning," published in 2005.

A collection of personal essays, titled "What I Can't Bear Losing: Notes From a Life" was released in the fall of 2003.

Additional information is available by contacting the Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy at 783-9448, or by emailing Chris Holbrook at c.holbrook@moreheadstate.edu or Crystal Wilkinson at c.wilkinson@moreheadstate.edu.

IWSP council

MSU's Interdisciplinary Women's Studies Program is now accepting nominations for membership on its free-standing Advisory Council.

Members are elected for two-year renewable terms beginning next fall. To receive consideration, send a note describing interest and background in Women's Studies and a current curriculum vita to Dr. Sylvia Henneberg, associate professor of English and director of the IWSP, to UPO 625; or send her an e-mail with that information to s.henneberg@moreheadstate.edu. The deadline for nominations is April 18.

The council also is also seeking information about existing and planned courses with an emphasis on gender, feminism, and/or women.

Those interested in offering a course to a greater range of students by cross-listing it between a particular academic discipline and women's studies may contact Dr. Henneberg.

Additional information is available by calling Dr. Henneberg at 783-5288.

Educational Opportunity Program Personnel (SAEOPP) conference in Atlanta. The Unsung Hero Award was created to recognize individuals in the southeast who work diligently for educational access and the students served in the TRIO programs.

Artist's lecture

Latina public art activist and muralist Judy Baca will be on the campus of MSU, Tuesday, April 8, 7-8 p.m. for an artist's lecture, with a book signing immediately following.

Free and open to the public, the lecture will be held in the auditorium of the Claypool-Young Art Building, with the book signing reception in CY 216.

Baca is best known for The Great Wall of Los Angeles, one of the world's largest and most famous public art murals.

As the artistic director of the Social and Public Art Resource Center (SPARC), she remains a practicing muralist and visual artist as well as a professor of art for the University of California.

In addition to the artist lecture and book signing, Baca will host a mural workshop for MSU art and art education students from noon-4 p.m. on Tuesday, April 8 in room 218.

When finished, the collaborative mural will be installed on the campus of MSU.

Gallaher finals

The final round of the A. Frank and Bethel C. Gallaher Performance Competition will be held on Thursday, April 10, at 3 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall, within Baird Music Hall, at MSU.

The competition was established as a memorial to A. Frank and Bethel C. Gallaher, parents of former chair of the Department of Music, Dr. Christopher Gallaher, to challenge music students to excel in performance artistry. It is open to full-time students in the department who are music majors, members of the junior class, initially matriculated at MSU, and have a grade point average of 2.5 or higher.

Students are nominated by their applied teachers and must have their repertoire approved by the competition committee and department chair. For the final round, the repertoire must be between 8-10 minutes in length.

All performances must be given from memory. The winner will perform at this year's Annual Academic Honors Convocation and receive a $1,000 prize.

Tennis clinic

MSU's Wellness Center will offer a free tennis clinic for its members on consecutive Tuesdays, April 22 and 29. The University's tennis coaches and skilled players will teach the basics of the game, and how to have fun while playing.

The clinics will be held on the indoor courts at 5 p.m. each evening. Both beginners and experienced players are welcome to attend either day, or both days of the clinic, but only Wellness Center members are eligible to take part. To attend the clinic, members may sign up at the Center's desk.

Additional information is available by calling Melinda L. Melendez, assistant director of the Wellness Center, at 783-5161.
